

Improvised comedy workshop

Want a taste of what improvisation is like? Interested in coming along to an improv show and learn some of the tricks of the trade?

Join Roland Lewis from professional improvisation troupe Impromptunes for a two-part improvisation workshop.

We are also planning on going as a group to see Impromptunes perform in the city including a Q and A afterwards, especially for workshop participants.

For more info on the workshop and performance please see attached flyer.
