

HUNTER PRIMARY CARE 2016 Indigenous Youth Art Competition

Entries Close
Friday 20 May

Hunter Primary Care provides a range of health care services to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people in the Hunter region. Our aim is to keep people well and out of hospital.

To coincide with National Reconciliation Week (27 May to 3 June 2016) the Hunter Primary Care 2016 Indigenous Youth Art Competition seeks to encourage, showcase and celebrate the incredible local talent of young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artists in the communities we work in.

The competition is open to Indigenous paintings relating to the theme:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

- Entry into the competition is free.
- Entry is open to individuals of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander descent.
- Artists must be attending a school based in the Hunter region in years 7-12 at the time of entry.
- Only 2D artworks (paintings) will be accepted.
- Original artworks (paintings) maximum size is limited to 1m by height and 1m by width.
- All entries must adhere to the theme Healthy Mob, Deadly Future. Winners will be chosen based on the quality of the artwork, creativity and how well the artwork aligns with the theme.
- Only the artist of the original artwork may submit art into the competition.
- Artists may submit up to 3 of their own original artworks.
- Artworks must have been completed by the artist in the last 12 months (i.e. Wednesday 20 May 2015 – Friday 20 May 2016).
- The artist retains copyright of the artwork.
- Entry forms without two high resolution photographs of the artwork (jpg format) attached will not be accepted.
- All entry photographs must be less than 3MB in size each.
- Entries submitted after 5 pm on Friday 20 May 2016 will not be accepted.
- The competition will be judged by members of the Hunter Primary Care Reconciliation Action Working Group and Hunter Primary Care staff.
- Each entry will be displayed on Hunter Primary Care's Facebook page and/or website alongside the applicant's first name, age, name of school, artwork title and description.
- Winners will be announced by Facebook, via the Hunter Primary Care website and through email and/or phone.
- The winning artworks will be used to brand a selection of Hunter Primary Care's materials including the Company's Reconciliation Action Plan, promotional materials, merchandise, website and social media pages. Where possible, the name of the artist and description of their artwork will be included.
- The winner and runner up artists will be required to submit their paintings to Hunter Primary Care's office (Newcastle or Maitland) within one month of the artwork competition's winning entries announcement so that the artwork can be photographed and used for promotional purposes. Paintings will be returned to the artists at a mutually agreeable date/time.
- The winning entries give Hunter Primary Care permission to photograph the artwork or reproduce it for promotional purposes.
- The winning entries agree that they will participate in and cooperate as required with all marketing and editorial activities relating to the Competition including (but not limited to) being recorded, photographed, filmed or interviewed and acknowledges that Hunter Primary Care may use any such marketing and editorial material without further reference or compensation to them.
- Prizes are not transferable, substitutable or exchangeable for another prize of equal or like value nor redeemable for cash.
- Hunter Primary Care reserves the right to check and validate at any time the authenticity of entries details (including an entrant's identity, age and place of residence). If proof cannot be provided then the entrant must withdraw from the competition.
- Hunter Primary Care reserves the right to disqualify entries in the competition of non-compliance with the Terms and Conditions of Entry.

I agree to the terms and conditions of entry for the Hunter Primary Care 2016 Indigenous Youth Art Competition. I certify that the artwork I have entered is my own original artwork.
