

'School Refusal' Professional Development Seminar

Registrations are now open

headspace Narre Warren and headspace Dandenong invites expressions of interest from school wellbeing staff interested in attending a headspace 'School Refusal' professional development training.

School refusal is a problem that is stressful for children, families and school professionals. Failing to attend school has significant short and long term effects on children's social, mental, emotional and educational development. " (Wanda, P.F, American Family Physician, Vol 68,: 8, October, 2003)

headspace Presenters Nick Teo (Clinical Lead) and Christina Molina (Clinical Coordinator) will enable participants by the end of the workshop to:

- gain a better understanding of school refusal behaviours through evidence based research
- identifying school refusing behaviour
- obtain practical strategies in responding to school refusing behaviour
- how to access support through headspace
